Description

Ledmotive is a high-tech company in the growing market of intelligent LED lighting. Ledmotive's patented technology is able to create, record, process, playback and share any light without boundaries. Our lights are connected to the Internet of Things and can perfectly reproduce the properties of visible light, in a similar way an MP3 player can reproduce the properties of sound. Moreover, our technology along with its mobile application defines a light that is adjustable, versatile, dynamic, sustainable, and constitutes the link between high quality LED lighting and the digital word.

Offer

Intelligent LED lighting solutions adapted to your needs

We offer a tunable light source beyond any RGB-technology. It's connected to IoT and controlled from your mobile/tablet.

We can reproduce any type of light source, whether it's daylight spectrum with the same physical properties in the visible range or enhance specific spectral content for any application.
